Playing Notes:

1. Lots of guitars w/heavy flanging effects in this song. Dirty lead, clean rhythm, clean lead, flanger guitar.

Not all parts are tabbed out.

2. Flanger or heavy phaser required for most of song, set on medium sweep. Just tap the root note to the beat and your flanger/phaser will come to life providing the necessary background. Flangers have lots of and getting the right sweep is possible. Just match the recording or close to it. You will notice in the recording when the sweep resets or starts a new cycle, with a volume swell then decay. Just tap harder on the at that point to make a new cycle stand out. You may wish to use a volume pedal and/or sustain pedal to this effect.

3. Lyrics interpreted and transcribed by me. The word baby appears 15+ times in this song. That s 1978 ya.

4. Barre chords are probably best, as the riffs revolve around them, but I think the Am chord sounds in the root position for this song.
