He could hold the ocean

In the palm of his hand

What he calls emotion

Let time slip like grains of sand

When the music took him

To the streets in town

G

He could catch a picture

For the price of half-a-crown

Fix it, broke-down man

Now his heart was broken

On a wedding day

Not a word was spoken

Cause there was nothing left to say

About how he whispered

How he went inside

And he never kissed her

That day he lost his bride

[Chorus]

Bring me that old wristwatch

Fix it, broke-down man
