

Spoken Wheel
Flogging Molly

Key of Bm, capo on two.

Am Em

Your passin broke the silence

F G

On that dark October day

Am Em

The sun was headin for the west

F G

As it did I heard you say

Am Em

I set my sail for a gentle breeze

F G

Now I leave this world as it was meant to be

F G C G Am

And you, did you listen to anything I said?

F G Am

Did you ever listen to me?

Though now it seems you ll never know

But every lad to a man must grow

Till winter comes to celebrate

Then proudly chills the bone

When at last they bury me

Into this ground you ll someday see

And you, did you listen to anything I said?

F G C

Did you ever listen to me?

F

Though the face we wear

C

Sometimes seldom speaks

F

From the babe that cries

C

To this grown man s feet

F

May the hand still write

C

And its heart shape keep

F Am

Till our fathers, sons and daughters agree

[Am G F]

Am G F
So I will pave this road till glory

Am G F
Sets our broken spirit free

Am G F
From every cross-soaked nail pours endless rain

C G Am
With tears no eye should see

Am G F
But they could fill our highest ocean

Am G F
And the rivers in between

Am G F
With every blade that flowers must grow then drown

C G E
With love our cruelest sea
