

The Kilburn High Road
Flogging Molly

The Kilburn High Road by Flogging Molly

I've set out all the chord changes with the lyrics so try not to get confused with the chorus (it's G C Am D and the D carries on to the beginning of the next line.)
Pretty straight forward. Enjoy, Olly.

G
Many's the day, I took for granted

Am Em
Breathing the air that silenced some

Em
The North wind blew, It's head asunder

Am Em
Beating it's breast with a war-drenched song

G Am C
Bathe awhile, awash in slumber

G Am D
Cry what's left to sleep

G Am C
When you dream of the love ya left forever

G Am D
But pity no more nor greive

D G C
So we're the kings of it all

Am D

The day we were born

D G Am D
Yeah we re the kings of the Kilburn High

D G C Am D
Sure we ll always take a drop and we ll never leave a sup

D G Am D
Your empty glass is but a tear filled eye

D C D Em
We were the kings of the Kilburn High

G
Listen to the sound of dead men dying

Am Em
March as they flee but exile bound

Em
Their ship once sailed no longer anchors

Am Em
For gone is the green and their hallowed ground

G Am C
Toast to tears of times past glories

G Am D
This ageless clock chime stalls

D G Am C
Where to kiss the lips of love forgotten

G Am D
To fly where no others have soared

D G C
So we re the kings of it all

Am D
The day we were born

D G Am D
Yeah we re the kings of the Kilburn High

D G C Am D
Sure we ll always take a drop and we ll never leave a sup

D G Am D
Your empty glass is but a tear filled eye
