

Forever Girl
Forever the Sickest Kids

                  E      B9      A9      A9
You re my forever girl.

( E B9 A9 A9 )

E                  B9                  A9
All things aside, just know.

                  E                  B9                  A9
No matter what you do,                  I ll be there for you.

E                  B9                  A9
When the world starts bringing you down,

                  E                  B9                  A9
I ll be there to stop and lift you off the ground.

                  C#9                  B9                  A9
Cause we ve got that thing people dream about

                  A9
and see on silver screens.

C#9                  B9                  A9
It s undeniable, you re the one.

                  B9
The only one for me.

E                  B9                  A9
Oh oh oh oh oh.

                  E
You re my forever girl.

                  B9                  A9
No matter what you do.

E                  B9                  A9
Oh oh oh oh oh.

                  E
You re my forever girl.

                  B9                  A9
And I believe in you.

                  E                  B9                  A9
Yeah, I believe in you.

                  E                  B9                  A9
Yeah, I believe in you.

                  E                  B9                  A9
You re the apple of my eye.

                  E                  B9                  A9
My American pie, the light of my life

                  E                  B9                  A9
They say things change with time.

                  E                  B9                  A9
But, one thing is for sure it won t be you and I.

You and I.
