

Amity Gardens
Fountains of Wayne

I saw a lack of this song anywhere, so I decided it was about time someone posted a decent rendition of this little croon. Here s my interpretation, enjoy!

VERSE 1:

Fm C#
angel broke her wing
G# C#
oh you poor thing Bbm Fm G# Eb
the hum of the motor gave way to the tick tick Fm C# G# C#
ticking of the clock and the rattle of springs Bbm Eb
the buick s in the drive Bbm Eb7
its good to be alive

CHORUS:

G# Eb Bbm Eb
and if you knew now, what you knew then C# G# C# Eb
you wouldn t wanna go home, wouldn t wanna go G# Eb Bbm Eb
if you knew now, what you knew then C# G# C# Eb G#
you wouldn t wanna go to amity gardens again

VERSE 2:

it isn t very much
but for now its home
a room in the shadow of a funny lookin man on the phone to the bank about a default loan I thank you very much ta ta we ll keep in touch

CHORUS:

BRIDGE:

Eb
where you, came from

and act like you tried Bbm Fm
cause some things are better kept G#

deep down inside

Bbm

Fm

G#

but you re not driving you re along for the ride

Bbm

Eb

just checking out the scene

Bbm

Eb7

and taking in the green
