And late December, can drag a man down short days and afternoons spent pottering around in a dark house with the windows painted shut

A                    D                    E                    A Remember New York staring outside from Staten Island to the Upper West Side and it s been falling all day long D                    E                    D                    F#m what else is new?, what can I do?

         D                    E                    A but sing this valley winter song I wrote for you
