Iâ€™m still not losing hope, though the sky is getting dark

C                                  Am                                  G                                  F
I wish youâ€™d just peak out the blinds to my heart

G                                  F
But you turned your bedroom light on

C                                  Am
Well at least thats a start

[Chorus]
