VERSE

I can see you hurting

Beneath your new red dress

Beneath your sharp new shoes and your new tattoos you are directionless

And I know you've been working

As hard as you can

To pre-empt the question and the expectation and I understand

So come on now if we all pull together

We can lift up the weight of the world from your shoulders

Lift up the weight of the world from your shoulders just for a moment or two

verse 2

F C
From the moment the phone alarm

F C
Splits the morning in two

F Am
To the moment you close your bedroom door

F C
And all that's left is you

F C
There are a thousand auditions

F C
You didn't quite get through

F Am
So many masks to wear so much weight to bear

F C
But you were only ever you

C
You were glorious you

C
You were glorious

G
So come on now if we all pull together

Dm Am
We can lift up the weight of the world from your shoulders

C F
Lift up the weight of the world from your shoulders just for a moment or two
