

Wanderlust
Frank Turner

Easy enough, and amazing.

Intro - Bm D

Bm D
I have wept until i ve slept into the lap of the lady that I love
Bm D
Though she begged and she cajoled I couldn t tell her what I was thinking of Bm D
I didn t choose no I was chosen by a life that must be lived in passing through
Bm D
And though she changed so much for me, changing this is the one thing I cannot do

Em A
Darling, I m leaving,
D A Bm
Distance keeps calling me on,
Em A
Darling, come morning,
D
I ll be gone

Bm D
She is beauty she is graceful in her poise and she is gentle in her care
Bm D
she is the calm within the center of my storm she is her fingers through my hair
Bm D
she has my heart though it is breaking cause it knows that deep inside she still believes
Bm D
That there will ever come a morning when i m staying, and not gathering to leave

Em A
Darling, I m leaving,
D A Bm
Distance keeps calling me on,
Em A
Darling, come morning,
D
I ll be gone

Solo - It s just using Bm and D chords like the verses.

Bm D
Baby let s get out of the city, we need to breathe some cleaner air,

Bm

D

That creeping feeling s starting like I miss you, but with both of us still here

Bm

D

There s a sadness in your smiles now and an edge of desperation in your voice

Bm

D

We have all this independance, but it still feels like we never had a choice

Em

A

Darling, I m leaving
