Lyrics:

muffin research kitchen,

Reaching for an oversize chrome spoon,
he gathers and intimate quantity of dried muffin remnants.

Brushing his scapular aside, proceeds to dump these inside of his shirt.

He turns to us and speaks, Some people like cupcakes better, I for one care less for them.

Arrogently twisting the sterile canvas snoot of a fully-charged icing annointment utencil, he puts for a quarter ounce green rossette near the summit of a dance but radiant muffin of his own design.

Later he says, Some people, like cupcakes exclusively while myself I say there is not, nor art there be nothing so exhalted on the face of god s great earth, as that prince of foods, the muffin.

Girl, you thought he was a man, but he was a muffin.
he hung around till you found that he didn t know nothing.
Girl, you thought he was a man, but he only was a muffin.
