Freddie Stevenson ~ Blind Architect

Beautiful new song that he s done acoustically on a podcast & is up on his myspace/reverb nation. It s (unusually for Freddie) written in standard, meaning that I can actually work it out. Should be on his 3rd album, hopefully...

Chords

Fsus2 [x87077] or [x87070] Can t quite hear which he s using but I think the former
C [x32013] for the intro and the first time in each verse, then [x32010] for the other two times
Am7 [x02213]
Em6 [022013]
Fmaj7 [xx3210]
Csus2/G [330010]
Gsus4 [320010]
Csus4 [x33010]
E7 [076700]
E7/A [570700]
A? [570500] (no idea if this is right. It s the same chord that stumped me in the interlude of Easy Now)

Throughout the song the D string in the C & Gsus4 chords and the G string in the Fmaj7 are hammered on (middle finger), listen for it & you can hear it.

The Em6 is pulled off to Em every time it s played by removing the index finger from the B string.

In the intro at the end of ever second bar it s played, the D string is dropped from the Fsus2 & from the C.
