Intro C,G,D x 4

C                    G                                    D
Something tells me its 3 o clock
C                    G                                    D
I can t speak it s your damn fault
C                    G                                    D
Kept me up last night until 4
C                    G                                    D
Like the night before and the night before
C                    G                                    D
The thought of you burns my mouth
C                    G                                    D
Turns my stomach inside out
C                    G                                    D
I think we better call it a night
C                    G                                    D
More of you is gonna make me want to fight

Chorus

D                                    G D                    Em
Wake up, Wake up I m your man
C                                    G                                    D
That little red top s gonna come right off in a 1 night stand
C                                    G
When I meet my maker
D                                    G
When I find my mark
C                                    G                                    D                                    G
Red top girl s gonna keep me warm in the cold, cold dark
