Capo one
```
  G               D/F#
```
Buenos noches senorita, I'm mighty pleased to meet ya
```
  G     G7
```
Maybe you and I could sit a spell and talk
```
     C                                          Cm
```
I'm new to Santa Fe, I just rode into town today
```
                       G                    D/F#        C       D
```
Thought I'd spend some time in these adobe walls
```
       G                                D/F#
```
It's dark in this cantina, it's a wonder that I seen ya
```
         G                                    G7
```
Sittin' without any company at all
```
          C                                          Cm
```
I was wondering if we might dance away this lonely night
```
  G                              C6  B6      G
```
Like to shadows on these old adobe walls

```
  C                 D                 G
```
I hear Celito Lindo softly playing
```
       C                     D                          G
```
As I take you in my arms and hold you close
```
        F                    Bb        B                 Bb
```
Though I don't understand a word you're saying
```
       C                                 Am       D
```
Your brown eyes tell me all I need to know
```
          G                                                  D/F#
```
These walls have stood for ages and though time still turns it's pages
```
       G                                        G7
```
Hearts are still the same when night begins to fall
```
          C                                              Cm
```
Sure as there are stars above we're not the first to fall in love

```
                    G                           C6    B6        G
That’s the magic of these old adobe walls

   C                         D                   G
I hear Celito Lindo softly playing
          C                         D                           G
As I take you in my arms and hold you close
             F                       Bb        B                     Bb
Though I don’t understand a word you’re saying
            C                                   Am        D
Your brown eyes tell me all I need to know
          G                                                       D/F#
These walls have stood for ages and though time still turns it’s pages
       G                                                     G7
Hearts are still the same when night begins to fall
            C                                                       Cm
Sure as there are stars above we’re not the first to fall in love
                    G                           C6    B6        G
That’s the magic of these old adobe walls
