```
C                                    C7        F
With a pocket full of quarters and time on my hands
        C                            G7
That old jukebox keeps calling my name
C                                    C7        F
One day it might break me but I ll pay the price
        C           G7          C
For an evening with your memory again
```

[Chorus]
```
G7                                F          C
Three minutes at a time I get lost in each song
     G7                           F          G7
It s heartache in rhyme but it helps me hang on
  C                      C7             F                  Fm
I drop a quarter in the jukebox and for a while you re still mine
     C         G7              C
I m getting by three minutes at a time
```

```
                          C7            F
Old Joe in the corner sits there every night
          C                          G7
He s heard my story he knows every line
C                                    C7        F
My misery s in good company as long as I m here
        C           G7          C
In this barroom the past comes alive
```

[Chorus]
```
G7                                F          C
Three minutes at a time I get lost in each song
     G7                           F          G7
It s heartache in rhyme but it helps me hang on
  C                      C7             F                  Fm
I drop a quarter in the jukebox and for a while you re still mine
     C         G7              C
I m getting by three minutes at a time
```

```
                          C7              F                  Fm
```

I drop a quarter in the jukebox and for a while you re still mine
   C   G7   F C
I m getting by three minutes at a time
