Am G F
And no corridor leads to the stairs

And tell me just what we re doing here

Am G C
Have you painted walls with all the answers

Have you hidden doors with all our fears

C G
What he said is the soul s rock hard but the heart s trapped underneath

Am G
And the weight of it all gets enough just to crush the best out of you and me

Am C Am G F
But I swear that there s someone who cares here enough to set us free

And if the world don t turn just enough to bring her honest

Then I guess we re better off forgotten

The walls stay too thin in this house of hallways

Am G F
Scratched out of their panels by angered air

Am G C

Cause God knows I've made all my own choices

Am                      G                      C

And if I drown alone it's cause I choose

Am                      G                      C

To spend my time drinking in the stairwells

Dm                      G

When we've both got way too much to prove

C

G

Cause the soul's rock hard but the heart's trapped underneath

G

And the weight of it all gets enough just to crush the best out of you and me

Am

F

But I swear that there's someone who cares here enough to set us free

Am
