

Little Death
Goldfrapp

E F
Don't let this love own me completely, you know how love does sometimes
Black satin tears rule the night just to be but you'll never here to dream
You're blind but you're blind as always
If I confess will it break the spell, my mind is full of you that's all
A little death occurred so sweetly, my mind will leave this world without you
Sing the sun sublime, you're my state of mind
You always, you will love to admit
Little death, I'll give you just a dime
Little death, I'll give you everything