

A Song For Angela
Gordon Bok

[Intro]

G C

[Verse]

F Dm7
A cold wind s blowing, Angela
G C
Do up your coat against the chill
F G
And pay no mind to things you hear
C
They re mindless calls of whippoorwills

[Verse]

F Dm7
I know some hurtful words were said
G C
And that they made you feel ashamed
F G
They ve got you tangled in their web
C F
Don t let them cause you so much pain

[Chorus]

G Dm7 C
But believe that time can heal the hurting
F G C G/B Am C F
The shadows disappear, and so will all the scars
G C G/B Am
One day you ll look inside and know just who you are
Dm C F C G
Though sometimes the seeing isn t easy, Angela

[Verse]

C F Dm7
Angela, those pretty braids you wore
G C
As shiny black as ravens wings
F G
Lay cut and scattered on the floor
C
One day you ll grow them back again

[Instrumental]

C F Dm7 G
C F G C F

[Chorus]

But believe that time can heal the hurting
The shadows disappear, and so will all the scars
One day you ll look inside and know just who you are
Though sometimes the seeing isn t easy, Angela

[Verse]

Angela, those pretty braids you wore
As shiny black as ravens wings
Lay cut and scattered on the floor
One day you ll grow them back again

[Verse]

One day your pride will rise and soar
And you will let them grow again, Angela
And you will let them grow again
