

Million Miles From Yesterday
Gov't Mule

D A E x2

D A E D A E
Born on the edge of a lonely town-searching for something no one had

D A E
Smart enough to say good-bye to this lonely town

G D A
But not smart enough to never look back

D A E D A E
Night falls early on these lonely streets-and time rolls by like a midnight train

D A E G D
A
Innocence in abundance on these lonely streets-but I feel guilty just the same

E G D
Now the words that I have written are ringing in my head

G D A
Oh, and I think I believe them

E G D
A million miles from yesterday and a million more to go

C G D
Still I search each day

Trying to find my way home

Solo over D A E x4

D A E D A E
Dreams die young in a lonely heart-and the past seems to follow close behind

D A E
There s an age old remedy for a lonely heart

G D A
But there s no peace in this soul of mine

E G D
Now the words that I have written are ringing in my head

G D A
Oh, and I think I believe them

E G D
A million miles from yesterday and a million more to go

C G D
Still I search each day

Trying to find my way home

End solo over D A E untill fade
