[Intro]
A E B D x2

[Verse 1]
```
                        A
You re always locked away
                          E
In your room you ll stay
      B
Indecisive about the future
              D
How your dreams have gone off to play
Stuck in a loop
                        E
As your birthdays pass
          B
One day you ll wake up with a box full of junk
      D
To remember the life you had
```

[Chorus]
```
A          E
   Get a break some time
          B                    D
You ll never be happy if the sun don t shine
A          E                B      D
   But it always shines where I live (wo-ooo-oah)
A            E
   So I let down the shades
       B                        D
The big black curtains keep the light away (light away)
A                E            B      D
   I wanna feel better but not today
```

[Bridge]
```
A                                    E
   And everything is meaningless in some regard
                  B
I haven t found any so far
I ve just been scrabblin  in the dirt to keep from crashing
```

```
I will push through the pain

Reach into the fire
        E
Take experience to heart

And let the rest transpire
Just wake up each day to live
Just wake up each day to live

[Chorus]
A          E
   Get a break some time
          B                   D
You ll never be happy if the sun don t shine
A         E              B      D
   But it always shines where I live
A            E
   So I let down the shades
     B                          D
The big black curtains keep the light away (light away)
A                  E            B      D
   I wanna feel better but not today
```
