

Song For The Angels
Great Lake Swimmers

This seemed easy once I d done it, but working it out took a while. I m pretty sure it s correct or at least so close no one will notice :) I ve taken special care to place the chord changes right were they should be.

Eb 022100
Gm 466444
Cm 446654
Bb 224442
G# 577655
G#(op)002220

Eb Gm
echo your yell, and ripple your dive,

Cm Bb G#(op)
current under your wave,

Gm G# Eb Bb
electricity flows through me, I send it out to you

Eb Gm
we were charged, with the pounding pulse,

Cm Bb G#(op)
of a million years

Gm G#
And millions before us,

Eb Bb
Have trembled with their fears

Eb Gm
Never Saw you, Never heard you

Cm Bb G#(op)
But I knew that you were there

Gm G# Eb

Everywhere, I could feel you, all around me

These same chords are repeated through the rest of the song, the only difference between verse and chorus is that the chorus stays on the E at the end. This is a lovely song and easy to strum, though it's partly picked on the recording. I've put the lyrics down as I think they are sung rather than how they are written on the CD insert. For the rest of the lyrics, buy the CD it's superb! Enjoy playing and singing!
