Wasted Rock Ranger
by Great White

This is the B-side to the Once Bitten Twice Shy single that came out many years ago. It has been stuck in head for some time now. I hope you all get a kick out of it as well. It sounds great on an acoustic.
anyone knows another way to play I would love to hear your suggestions.

G
Well, I m a Wasted Rock Ranger, I live a life of danger

D
On the road to find a higher high

D
I don t need no one s affection, All I need is my injection,

G
My out of tune Les Paul will get me by

G
I ve been doin gigs since I was ten and really can t remember when

D
I ever had a dollar to my name

D
My ears are blown, my eyes are red, I ve got big holes inside my head

G
From snorting too much crystal and cocaine

G
I have bennies with the mornin toast, Qualudes with the evenin roast

D
Assorted snorts of powder in between

D
I don t think a days gone by, That I wasn t drunk or high

G
It s the only way I keep my sanity

G
From Keggers Den to Hootersville, My flamming dreams have topped the bill

D
A thousand empty bottles earned my name

D
Endless dreams of one night stands, Sharing gigs with half-ass bands

G

And all the local groupies lay the same

G

Well I coulda had a payin job, workin for some fucked up slob

D

Wife or family, true security

But I left that shit behind, With all that heavy metal grind

G

Cause Rock & Roll is in my blood to stay (among other things...)

G

Hey! You re a Wasted Rock Ranger, You ll live a life of danger

D

Sing this song and follow it to the end

D

And when you reach number one You can overdose for fun

G

And go and visit Jimi and his friends

(whistle)x4

(solo)x8

G

Hey! You re a Wasted Rock Ranger, You ll live a life of danger

D

Sing this song and follow it till the end

D

And when we reach number one We ll all overdose for fun

G

And we ll hang out with Jimi and his friends (Yee-Haa)
