1)

A life that always seems so boring a life that seems to go unknown well if it's better late than early we'll never ever know we're running low on love and affection we always sit there wanting more and maybe we'll just never know.

I'll give it all up to you i've given all into you the same old story again and then i'll do it again and if it's all i can do we can start over again and if it's all gonna end i know we'll see us again

1)
I guess it started back when i was nine way back when beer was only five ninety-nine we had it all we had our dinners with wine we had lice we had mice we had flee ridden beds but we were so careless always happy and free we had it all we had our coconut tree and anytime if ever we'd disagree we were nice and polite when we'd pee us our beds
