

Blue Would Still Be Blue
Guillemots

It took me hours to work out the chords and Iâ€™m still not sure about a few of themâ€¦|sorry
To play on the original key, put your capo on the 6th fret, or transpose it down if you canâ€™t sing as high as this guy!

John from Borneo

Blue would still be blue

Capo VI

                  C          D                          C          C
It s not raining cats,          it s not raining dogs

                  Em                                  Em
And pigs are not flying, or turning the cogs

                  Dm                                  Dm
The sun has no hat on, whenever it shines
                  C                                  Dm  Dm7
And I ve never seen a cat live nine lives

                  C  D                          C          C
I m not in a film, this isnâ€™t a play

                  Em
I saw no aliens today
E                  C#                          D          D7
  I just saw you, and thought of me

                  F
And if I had you,                                  Gm all the stars wouldn t fall from the sky,
                  Dm                                  Bb
and the moon wouldn t start to cry

                  C                  Bb                          C
There d be no earthquakes I d still make mistakes
                  F
If i had you

                                  Gm
Oh there d still be day and night,
                  Dm                                  Bb
and I d still do wrong and right

Em                  Em7          Am  Am7  D
Ooh Blue would still be blue
                  Bb                  Bbm                  F  C  D  C
But things would be easier with you

And this is no palace, the place that I live

And I am no king, but I ve got things to give
And I waste so much time, thinking about time
And I should be out there, claiming what s mine
Cause any day I could die, just like I was born
And this bit in the middle is why I m here for
And I just want to fill it all with joy

And if I had you,
All the stars would not fall from the sky,
and the moon wouldn t start to cry
There d be no earthquakes I d still make mistakes
If I had you
Oh there d still be night and day, and we d all still have to pay
Ooh Blue would still be blue
But things would just be easier with you
