E A B (x2)

E
He smiled to the world

A B
But his heart fell below his pain

E
He wanted only arms

A B
But he lied to himself again

A B
Closing doors and locking locks

E A
He looked inside himself

E A
Only to find

B
Deep down fear

A
Let me fall in two

B

Let me fall in two

A

Let me fall in two

E

Wide as a river and spread as thin

B

What he could start, no one would finish

E

Bottled up frowning treaties, saw what they would

B

Knowing not nothing, he was the only son

B

Closing doors and locking locks

E

A

He looked inside himself

E

A

Only to find

B

Seeping from his soul

A

Let me fall in two

B

Let me fall in two

A

Let me fall in two

B

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

A

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

B

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

A

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

B

He finds himself away

A

He finds himself away

(Only have to make the world come find you)

B

E

Try to leave but there is nothing he can do

E

Downcast eyes scrutinize

B

As to what the lead ball hummingbird would not succumb

E

To find what is gone you must burn what is dried

B

And smell the essence of what remains inside

E

A

But blackened thoughts erase all that is past before him

B

Not knowing where heâ€™s coming

E

So you shake him around and scream into his eyes

B

That to drown in the water is to lie by his side

B

Closing doors and locking locks

E

A

He looked inside himself

E

A

Only to find

B

Seeping from his soul

A

Let me fall in two

B

Let me fall in two

A

Let me fall in two

B

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

A

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

B

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

A

Let me fall in two

(What are you running from?)

B

Ohhhh Ohhhh

E

Ohhhh Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh
