

Lord Herefords Knob Half Man Half Biscuit

E B E
As I camped out one evening to take the midnight air

A B
I heard a maiden grieving from somewhere over there

A E A E
Who is it you are mourning; for whom do you wear grey?

A E F# B7
She said I pine for no one - I just can't pay my way.

A E B E
Ever since the chattering classes invaded Hebden Bridge

A E F# B
And priced the likes of me and mine to the pots of the Pennine Ridge

A E A E
To South East Wales I was forced to flee and now I have no job

A B7 E
That's why tonight I'm sitting on top of Lord Hereford's Knob.

B E
For you I'd waive expenses to try and help you out

A B
For your beauty influences the landscape hereabouts

A E A E
Look up my betrothed at Three Cocks; be sure she'll see you right

A E F# B7
While I go up to Yorkshire and there avenge your plight.

A E B E
Soon reports were filtering through to me the pair were drowning in bliss

A E F# B
I can't recall having ever been cuckolded quite like this

A E A
I gave up hope ironically for Lent,

E A B7 E
Come see me living in a bivvie if you're ever up Pen-Y-Ghent.

B E
Although upon reflection I've been a trifle green

A B
I still think with affection on everything that's been

A E A E
So prepare that fatted calf and string up the bunting gay

A E F# B7
Your brisk and bonny ploughboy is coming home today.

E B E B7
And tonight he'll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford's Knob.

E B E B7
Tonight he'll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford's Knob.

E B
On touching the trig point I found my thrill

E B
To the east Brokeback Mountain, to the west Benny Hill

E B
I ll give you the grid ref - you might like to go:

E B
SO2 24350.

E B
Could this be heaven, would that be the Severn?

E B
Twampa, Twampa, you re gonna need a jumper,

E B E B7
It gets a bit chilly on top of Lord Hereford s Knob.

E B E
Tonight he ll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford s Knob.

B7 E
All of our songs sound the same;

B7 E
Tonight he ll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford s Knob.

B7 E
I m keeping two chevrons apart;

B7 E
Tonight he ll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford s Knob.

B7 E
You re the reason why paradise lost;

B7 E
Tonight he ll be sitting on top of Lord Hereford s Knob.
