When These Mountains Were The Seashore : - Hawksley Workman Submitted by Jade Evoy

G
when these mountains were the seashore C Am
when this desert was the ocean floor
G Em
we would swim beneath the star filled sky
C G D G
we were lovely fish alone in the night before the cities met the heavens i mean way, way, way back before then we would sing as if it were a prayer we were lovely fish who dreamed to dare

CHORUS

before clocks kept track of the time
when day lead gracefully into the night
C G C Em
before two simple fish who dreamed to fly C D Em D G
created their sadness and new reasons to cry

you and i were not born yet it s too long ago now even to forget when the blue sky found it s courage to love and raise and nourish back when life was simply meant to be our love and care alone in the sea

before two fish that dreamed to fly got suspicious of a miracle and asked themselves why when we looked up through the water at time and space and wondered what it might be like to live up there to leave our fins and gills for the air

before the poems began to rhyme before two simple fish that learned to cry got suspicious of their love and asked each other why
