[Intro]

Em/D/Am/G

Em                  D
You re arriving, feeling so strong
Am                                  G
Living into the cross, how did I become this?
          Em                  D
You re teaching me and to some other folk,
          Am                  G
so alone, Can I believe in what you give me?

[CHORUS]

Em G Am                  C                                  Em
Lady, you re running fast but nobody is wwaiting
G Am                  C                                  Em
Lady, don t run away, you won t forgive

[VERSE 2]

Em                                  C
Looking when you re falling down
                                  G                                  Am
At the same time that you lose the way to the last train
Em                                  C                                  G
Everyday you tell me about your presence in this netherworld
                                  Am                                  Em
And you can buy it by the date of your birth
Em                                  C                                  G
Sing inside the sphere where notes emerge
                                  Am                                  Em
Your past is now, it wll always be

[BRIDGE]

Em D Am                                  G
The real past is only one hundred photographs
Em D Am                                  G
To see all the future, maybe we re not competent
Em D Am                                  G
I ll try to find a way to collide against you
