Α
Let them know
That life keeps getting better as the days go on
Over load
Like a ticking time bomb waiting for the world to blow
On and on with the setting sun
I've been living too long this way
Every night it's another mistake
           Cadd9
                         G
But I ll be fine when the morning comes
And I m standing at a cross road every day
But I m always a little too late
           Cadd9
                         G
But I ll be fine when the morning comes
When the morning comes
      G
I run away one last time
Forget yesterday
        Α
Today is mine
     D
O mine
On and on with the rising sun
I've been living too long this way
Every night it's another mistake
           Cadd9
                   G
But I ll be fine when the morning comes
And I m standing at a cross road every day
But I m always a little too late
           Cadd9
But I ll be fine when the morning comes
