

Another Bender Might Break Me Hellbound Glory

Please this song using barre chords only. The first measure of a chord is played with the full barre chord structure. The second is played by lifting finger one (the pointer finger) only, but keeping the other finger(s) in place. It gives this song its rollicking sing-a-long feel.

Intro: D (use the fifth fret double barre chord and alternate full chord with lifting finger one. This rhythm repeats the whole song)

D

I've been out on a bender since I can't remember, and lately it's startin

A

to show. Well the lines on my face is showin my age and my mind's beginnin to go. If I quit right now, some way, some how, and reverse the damage I've done. But I'm lying to my fates, and it's far too late, to stop a bender once it's begun.

D

G

CHORUS

D

D

Another bender might break me. And it might take me down. But that's a chance I'm takin ...and I'll take one more round. So get out the gravy...and we'll all get hellbound. Another bender might break me, but it's too late to save me right now.

D

G

A

G

Repeat verse and chorus for remainder of the song.
