

Perfect Place
Hello Kelly

Hey! This is the proper way to play this song acoustically if you want to know how!

This is what Adam Arkell, Or Matt Lean would play, depending when you got into the band.

Tuning is EBEADD or I find its safer to tune to DADGCC and capo the 2nd fret

Okay this song is basically a bunch of power chords with the GCC ringing out. The strumming pattern is DUUDUU Striking the power chord on the downward stroke and just mainly hitting the GCC on the up.

I took the placement of the chords from the unregistered chords that someone already put to save time, so thanks to him/her! Whose version works just I m doing some fine tuning!

Everything is relative to the capo
(The chords in brackets are just the chords if you do not want to tune to the funky tuning)

A5(A) - 555000
B5(Bm) - 777000
E5(Em) - 000000

And this weight upon my shoulders,

A5

Makes me fall down to my knees.

E5

G5

But I dont know who can hear.

B5

And these waves of fake religion,

They all echo in my ears.
