Hello

Do you remember me

Cm
I am your long lost pen pal
Ab Bb D# Bb
It must have been ten years ago we last wrote
D#

I donâ€™t really know what happened
Cm

I guess life came in the way
Ab Bb
Let me know if youâ€™re still alive

Ab Bb D#
Let me know if you ever used that knife or not

D# Bb/D Cm Ab Bb

D#
Hello

Yes I remember you

Cm
Iâ€™ve got a husband and two children now
Ab Bb D# Bb

I work as an accountant and make fairly good money
D# Cm
I still have your letters, you used a pink pen to write them
Ab Bb

And you would comfort me

Ab

Bb

when my tears would stain the ink

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb

And I would send you mix tapes with Kate Bush on

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb/D

I have to admit I sometimes lied in those letters

Cm

Ab

Bb

Ab

Tried to make life better than it was

Bb

I still wasn't kissed at sixteen

D#

And I still need a friend

D# Bb/D Cm Bb Ab Bb

D#

There was this letter

Cm

I never told you this back then

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb

But it would be fair to say it saved my life

I sat in the window

Cm

The only one left out from a party again

Ab

Bb

Pretty sure I didn't have a single friend

Bb

Then I checked the mailbox

D#

Dear long lost penpal

Cm

I was lying the whole time

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb

I'm really a 46 years old man named Luke

I have three children

Cm

and a wife, she doesn't care

Ab

Bb

And I hope you don't resent me

Ab

Bb

And I hope you do not hate me

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb

For trying to find my way back to what it's like to be young

Ab

Bb

D#

Bb/D

I have to admit I sometimes lied in those letters

Cm Ab Bb Ab

Tried to make life better than it was
