now i m not the same girl i left behind with you twelve bars behind us and twelve bars to go bottles of beer lined up in a row one for each hour you didn t show you and me dying everyday getting high just to pass away but that s not the reason i couldn t stay with you now i am sober

now i m alone

three years have gone by since you have gone letting you go, letting me go on but i ll raise a glass now to you and me to to lift me higher so i can see which of these blessings are killing me
