

Go Henry
Hey Rosetta!

Go Henry

Am Cmaj7 Em G D

the years pile up and layer like a rock but some things still stick out through the frozen ground your face has begun to fade and all the things you said my mind is like a seive but i can still see some things when you were in the home and your knuckles knotted closed you swore you d never go you raged like a dying poet

Em D/F# G Am Amdim

the earth underfoot had all begun to move and when the hammer fell the savages hardly shuddered the building all fell in the screams were deafening the nurse chatted quietly the savages all heard nothing and angels broke their pledge and they revealed themselves they came to take you in and gathered you up in their wings they could not believe it we were oblivious fucking idiots us savages all knew nothing but its a quiet sound a body in the ground and its a shallow time one stone in a long line.
