Wake up just in time to miss the day

G

And now I m talking to the man in the mirror

D

And I think I heard him say

Chorus

A

What ya gonna do

G

When the whiskey ain t working no more?

D

Life don t feel like before

A

What ya gonna do?

A

What ya gonna do

G

When the ride ain t climbing no more?

D

D

Verse 2: Same progression as the 1st

And I m still closing down these streets

I m high enough to make believe

That I ain t ever gonna hit the ground

The one that got away from me

Every now and then she calls to see
If I m alive or plan to settle down
Well, I called her drunk last night
And I think I heard her say

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain t working no more?
Life don t feel like before?
What ya gonna do?
What ya gonna do
When the ride ain t climbing no more?
Nobody s beatin down your door
What ya gonna do?

*Continue A G D A through the solo
These might sound better for the Pre-Chorus

D	7	5
A	7	5
E	5	3

A G
I can t sleep and I can t hide

A G
Cause the voices in my head are getting louder
Getting louder every night

A
I m living life with no regrets

G D
They re on their way but ain t here yet

Chorus X3

The music stops in the last chorus leaving just the vocals and in the last line an A

Well that s it. It may not be totally correct but should be close. Definitely one of Hinders better written songs so enjoy.
