

Malibu Live Acoustic
Hole

I do not own this song or any of the lyrics. I simply Love the band.

I noticed a few album versions of the song but not the unplugged (Live) version which has a additional ending as well as add-in lyrics and different chords in places. This is the unplugged version with the additional ending esc. I also find this version graceful with nice backing vocals and a bass back-up, but because we are not all in bands it sounds perfect solo.

This song gains in places and you really have to give it a listen a few times to get the rhythm and vocals down good. Courtney has a way of pronouncing things while she is singing, its a groove you have to get into with practice. Awesome Song though, its worth it. Fun to play live or in your bedroom :) If this was hard to understand forgive me its my first try at this.
