

Miles
Hudson Taylor

Hey! This is miles from HudsonTaylors new EP.
The EP isn't out yet, or wasn't out yet when I submitted this, if you read this much later, so these lyrics are based on a live version of the song Harry performed on blogTV. I only have a bad quality recording of that, there are probably a bunch of mistakes - sorry.
The chords don't fit a hundred percent either. Sounds great, huh? Have fun!

Capo 3

Am F
It's looking like the stars will fall for you
Am F
Given that the sea is pardoned
Am F
I can change your mind, your doubt for you
Am F
I can stop the worst from starting

Dm G
I-i wouldn't mind

Am F
See what you could do if you felt love
Am F
mannequins machine and you won't give up
Am7
You turn darkness into light
C
You give me a second sight
F

Dm G
And I-i wouldn't mind
Dm G
I-i wouldn't lie

CHORUS:

Am G
You're going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
F Dm
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
Am G
I can see the old path crumbling

F Dm
And there s a new one coming

(repeat chords from first verse)

It s looking like the world was built for you
Finally your luck is changing

You turn oil into gold
Embrace what you behold
Look into my eyes, see there s nothing left to hide

And I-i wouldn t lie
I-i, I wouldn t lie

Am G
We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
F Dm
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
Am G
I can see the old path crumbling
F Dm
And there s a new one coming

Am G Dm
I ll take the fall for you
F
For you

We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming

Going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming,
A new one coming,
There s a new one coming too
