

Miles

Hudson Taylor

Hey! This is miles from HudsonTaylors new EP.

The EP isn't out yet, or wasn't out yet when I submitted this, if you read this much later, so these lyrics are based on a live version of the song Harry performed on blogTV. I only have a bad quality recording of that, there are probably a bunch of mistakes - sorry.

The chords don't fit a hundred percent either. Sounds great, huh? Have fun!

Capo 3

G#m E
It's looking like the stars will fall for you

G#m E
Given that the sea is pardoned

G#m E
I can change your mind, your doubt for you

G#m E
I can stop the worst from starting

C#m F#
I-i wouldn't mind

G#m E
See what you could do if you felt love

G#m E
mannequins machine and you won't give up

G#m7
You turn darkness into light

B
You give me a second sight

E
Look into my eyes, see there's nothing left to hide

C#m F#
And I-i wouldn't mind

C#m F#
I-i wouldn't lie

CHORUS:

G#m F#
You're going miles, going miles, and you take it all back

E C#m
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track

G#m F#
I can see the old path crumbling

E C#m

And there s a new one coming

(repeat chords from first verse)

It s looking like the world was built for you
Finally your luck is changing

You turn oil into gold
Embrace what you behold
Look into my eyes, see there s nothing left to hide

And I-i wouldn t lie
I-i, I wouldn t lie

G#m

F#

We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back

E

C#m

Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track

G#m

F#

I can see the old path crumbling

E

C#m

And there s a new one coming

G#m

F#

C#m

I ll take the fall for you

E

For you

We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming

Going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming,
A new one coming,
There s a new one coming too
