

Miles

Hudson Taylor

Hey! This is miles from HudsonTaylors new EP.

The EP isn't out yet, or wasn't out yet when I submitted this, if you read this much later, so these lyrics are based on a live version of the song Harry performed on blogTV. I only have a bad quality recording of that, there are probably a bunch of mistakes - sorry.

The chords don't fit a hundred percent either. Sounds great, huh? Have fun!

Capo 3

Bm G
It's looking like the stars will fall for you

Bm G
Given that the sea is pardoned

Bm G
I can change your mind, your doubt for you

Bm G
I can stop the worst from starting

Em A
I-i wouldn't mind

Bm G
See what you could do if you felt love

Bm G
mannequins machine and you won't give up

Bm7
You turn darkness into light

D
You give me a second sight

G
Look into my eyes, see there's nothing left to hide

Em A
And I-i wouldn't mind

Em A
I-i wouldn't lie

CHORUS:

Bm A
You're going miles, going miles, and you take it all back

G Em
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track

Bm A
I can see the old path crumbling

G Em
And there s a new one coming

(repeat chords from first verse)

It s looking like the world was built for you
Finally your luck is changing

You turn oil into gold
Embrace what you behold
Look into my eyes, see there s nothing left to hide

And I-i wouldn t lie
I-i, I wouldn t lie

Bm A
We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
G Em
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
Bm A
I can see the old path crumbling
G Em
And there s a new one coming

Bm A Em
I ll take the fall for you
G
For you

We re going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming

Going miles, going miles, and you take it all back
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track
I can see the old path crumbling
And there s a new one coming,
A new one coming,
There s a new one coming too