

Miles

Hudson Taylor

Hey! This is miles from HudsonTaylors new EP.

The EP isn't out yet, or wasn't out yet when I submitted this, if you read this much later, so these lyrics are based on a live version of the song Harry performed on blogTV. I only have a bad quality recording of that, there are probably a bunch of mistakes - sorry.

The chords don't fit a hundred percent either. Sounds great, huh? Have fun!

Capo 3

Bm G
It's looking like the stars will fall for you

Bm G
Given that the sea is pardoned

Bm G
I can change your mind, your doubt for you

Bm G
I can stop the worst from starting

Em A
I-i wouldn't mind

Bm G
See what you could do if you felt love

Bm G
mannequins machine and you won't give up

Bm7
You turn darkness into light

D
You give me a second sight

G
Look into my eyes, see there's nothing left to hide

Em A
And I-i wouldn't mind

Em A
I-i wouldn't lie

CHORUS:

Bm A
You're going miles, going miles, and you take it all back

G Em
Going miles, going miles, going miles off your track

Bm A
I can see the old path crumbling
