

Banker Bets Banker Wins
Ian Anderson

[intro: capo 1]

Am F (x2)

[capo 3]

Em C Dsus4 D )
) (x2)
Em C D )

Em C Dsus4 D
Education, micro-managed.

Em C D
MBA: a doddle mastered.

Em C Dsus4 D
City-bound, Canary Wharf.

Em C D
A cushy number, fluky bastard.
C D G C D B
Banker bets and banker wins, never missed yet, for all his sins.

Em C Dsus4 D )
**)
Em C D )

Em C Dsus4 D
Hedge funds, wraps and equities.

Em C D
Lackeys, aides in fierce attendance.

Em C Dsus4 D
Trusts and gilts, reserve currencies.

Em C D
Liquid gold in safe ascendance.
C D G C D B
Banker bets and banker wins, never missed yet, for all his sins.

Em C Dsus4 D )
) (x2)
Em C D )

Am
Treat myself to quality time,
C
test a porsche and snort a line,
D Em C Dsus4 D
eat Hermione for lunch.

D

Set that glum PA a-jumping,

Em/B?

B

book front-row tickets for something after we munch.

Em C Dsus4 D )

) (x4)

Em C D )

Fast-tracked futures, hard-nut traders.

Feeding frenzy, pigs a-troughing.

Fuelled by forecasts, and hot share options.

Big fat bonus in the offing.

Draconian calls for regulation are drowned in latte with Starbucks muffin.

Mortgage melt-down: non est mea culpa.

Threatened exit, stage left, laughing....

Banker bets and banker wins, never missed yet, for all his sins.