Oh Ozilline, the moon is almost full

G

And you don t need a torch light

D

To see into these woods

D

Sister, bring the medicine

To keep you from decline,

G

But it s the waxing and the waning

D

That s always on your mind.

Oh Ozilline, I feel for you.

D

As soon as the corn s in,
The deer will come to feed.

G

When the berry ripens,

D

The bird will come to eat.

Build by the river,
Its pretty but you ll pay,

G

Cause the springtime brings the flood plain

Or your cutbank washes away.

Oh Ozilline, I feel for you.

I had to put the dog down,
Before I hit the road,
I watched that sweet old life
Become a bag of bones.

When your body s broken
And your heart wants to give in,
And you hear that hoot owl callin

Just like she was a friend.

Oh Ozilline, I feel for you.
