Great song by a great NY band. This is a simplified chord progression. Very good and far more detailed tabs are also filed in ultimate-guitar, but this one will do for camp fires and sing-alongs. Good Luck, John Pineau

How are things on the west coast?
I hear you re moving real fine tonight
You wear those shoes like a dove
Now strut those shoes we ll go roaming in the night
Well, how are things on the west coast?
You keep it moving to your soul s delight
Now I ve tried the brakes
I tried, but you know it s a lonely ride
How are things on the west coast?
Oh, I d move heaven behind those eyes
Today my heart swings
Yeah today my heart swings
But I don t want to take your heart
And I don t want a piece of history
No, I don t want to read your thoughts anymore, my god (love)
Cause today my heart swings
Yeah Today my heart swings
How are things on the west coast?
I Hear you re moving real fine tonight

You wear those shoes side to side

Am

Ah, strut those shoes we ll go roaming in the night

Em

Well, how are things on the west coast?

G

Yeah, but you re an actress I don t identify

G Am Em

Today my heart swings

G Am Em

Yeah, today my heart swings

C Am

But I don t want to play the part

C Em

And I don t want a taste of victory

C Am Em

No. I don t want to read your thoughts anymore, my god

G Am Em

Cause today my heart swings

G Am Em

Yeah, today my heart swings

C Am

Cause I ve got a chance for a sweet sane life, and

C Em

I said I ve got a dance and you ll do just fine

C Am Em

We ll I ve got a plan with forward in my eyes

Cause I ve got a chance for a sweet sane life, and

C Em

I said I ve got a dance and you ll do just fine

C Am Em

We ll I ve got a plan with forward in my eyes

G Am Em

But today my heart swings

G Am Em

Yeah, today my heart swings
