

Golden

Isaac Russell

Like always, correct me on the lyrics. I think this is pretty close. There are some extra hammer-ons and cool stuff (like the bend on the G at the end of most stanzas) but you can figure those out yourself. They aren't too hard. Enjoy! P.s. sorry the formatting is kinda screwed up.

Golden

by, Isaac Russell

[Capo 2]

C F G Am F
Baby girl, unhand my heart cause it's been too long
G C C/B Am
And the ink in my veins scribbles the same old songs
F G C C/B Am
Those that are getting lost and are always pained
Fm G
You ain't helpin

C F G Am F
And you know, I'm gonna be a scribble in your book
G C C/B Am
And for all risks you should've never took
F G C C/B Am
Girls like you are always cut too deep
Fm C
And you don't want me

F
Cause you men with muscly arms
G
And not some kid who plays guitar
Am F
and girl lovers line up at your door
D Fm G
they call you golden they call me the chore

[Break]

C F G Am F
Too many times too many times that I've messed up
G C C/B Am
you deserve the stars but girl I'm just a book
F G C C/B Am
For you to read and like all rest burn up

