                    I ll Do Anything    (Jackson Browne)

  C#m                          F#m        C#m                      F#m
    You hold a life there in your hands, you probably don t know

  C#m                         F#m        A         B        E
    Somehow your dreams became my plans, somewhere long ago

  C#m                                            A
    Think about the things we ve done and where we ve been

               B         E
    Your touch made me a king

  C#m                                  A                   B        E
    I don t want to live without your love again, I ll do anything

  F#m          G#m            A
    To make you see what I m imagining

  F#m          G#m            A
    To know the pleasure your smile can bring

  Em           F#m        G         A         Bm / / / / / / /
    To keep the light from vanishing, I ll do anything

  C#m                          F#m        C#m                      F#m
    I fly this airplane upside down, I walk out on the wing

  C#m                        F#m          A     B        E
    To see you watching from the ground, I ll do anything

  C#m                                  A                          B        E
    When I see the light upon your upturned face, I can hear the angels sing

  C#m                              A                 B        E
    Don t ever let another take my place, I ll do anything

  F#m          G#m            A
    To make you see what I m imagining

  F#m          G#m                A

    To know the pleasure your smile can bring

   Em              F#m        G          A          Bm  / / /  / / / /
     To keep the light from vanishing, I ll do anything

   Bm  / / /  G  / / /  Bm  / / /  G  / / /

   Bm  / / /  G  / / /  G  /  A  /  D  / / /

    A           B              E
     I make this world a place for you and me

    A           B              E
     I make your happiness my responsibility

    A             B  E                        A         B  G#m
     To make this world the world you want to see, I ll do anything

   C#m                         A                        B        E
     When I see the light upon your upturned face, I can hear the angels sing

   C#m                         A                 B         E
     To see that no-one ever takes my place, I ll do anything

   F#m           G#m          A
     To make you see what I m imagining

   F#m             G#m           A
     To know the pleasure your smile can bring

   Em              F#m        G          A          Bm  / / /  / / / /
     To keep the light from vanishing, I ll do anything

    Bm  / / /  G  / / /  Bm  / / /  G  / / /

   C#m           A          F#m              G#m         A
     Rob a bank, steal a tank, I can hear the angels sing

    Bm  / / /  G  / / /  Bm  / / /  G  / / /

   C#m             A            F#m  /  G#m  /  A  /  B  /  E
     Blaze a trail, find the grail
