[Intro]

F# C# D#m A#m B Bm F# C#

F# C# D#m

Maybe I can sail and stay afloat

A#m B

Maybe I can dive but I won't,

Bm F# C#

Cause I can't face the tide alone

F# C# D#m

Sitting on the edge of windows

A#m B

Where we used to talk and you'd smoke,

Bm F# C#

But now I'm up here on my own

B F# C#

Boxes full of years in empty rooms

Gm F# C#

The hardest thing is letting go of you

F#

So you can,

C# D#m

Keep my t-shirts

C# B

For what it's worth

Bm F# C#

They look better on you anyway

F# C# D#m

These old photos

C# B

I'll keep them close

Bm F# C#

In case you wanna see them again

F#

Someday

F# C# D#m A#m B Bm F# C#m

F# C# D#m

I know we haven't spoken in weeks

It s like we only meet in our sleep,
And I can t wait to close my eyes
I found the missing earring you wore
The night you threw me out and slammed the door,
But you won t let me back this time

And now it haunts me in these empty rooms
The hardest thing is letting go of you
So you can,

Keep my t-shirts
For what it s worth
They look better on you anyway
I ll keep them close
In case you wanna see them again
Someday

C# D#m A#m B Bm F# C#

Keep my t-shirts
For what it s worth
They look better on you anyway
I ll keep them close
In case you wanna see them again
Someday
