[Verse]

D G
the wind changed, the first day that you came through

D
cut the corn, washed it clean

G Bm A G
now everything that s ever gone before, is just a blur

Bm A
it s all because of you

D G
and now I find, this cities like a stranger to me

D G
I once was fooled by cadillacs and honey

Bm A
but no one feels like you

G
not like you

Bm A
not like you

G G/F#
not like you

Em/G G/F# G
cause even though the flower fades something takes its place

G/F# Em/G G/F# G G***
a marching band on a sunny day, two pretty eyes or a pretty face

[Chorus]

D Em/G G D
then in the forest i made my home

Em/G G D
lay down on hard and ancient stone

Em/G G G/F#
then if my heart should somehow stop

Em/G G
I ll hang on, to the hope

D G
that you re not too late

D G

that you re not too late

[Verse 2]

(Same chords as verse 1)

and there are times i know when I will have to chase you
the further from my side you go, the longing grows
and though i hate this, I ll still want you,
I will hate this, but I ll still want you
even though the flower dies somethings by it s side
a helping hand or a kiss goodbye, to ease it on it s way

[Chorus]

[Bridge]

C D C D Bm F#m Em/G G Em/G G
D A G A D A G A Asus-D

[Chorus]
