There Might Be A Light
Jars Of Clay

```
   G               Am      C
I wait outside your house
    C             Am      C
And sing below your window
      G               Am       C
And I look for the light to show, I know
                  Em          Am       D        C    (G Am C)x2
I know that it will come on, come on, come on, come on soon

G               Am      C
There might be a light
G               Am      C
Somewhere in your mind
        G                Am    C
When you think of you and I, I wait for it to shine
                Em          Am       D        C  Em
I know it will come on, come on, come on, come on soon
        Am            D    [(G Am C) (G C Em)]x2
It will come on, come on soon

       G                 Am      C
And its just the way things go
                  G               Am      C
When you love someone and they dont know
        G                 Am             C
Sparks and hearts, they have to glow, they just glow, they just glow
                Em          Am       D        C
You know they just come on, come on, come on, come on
          Em        Am          C D
They just come on, come on, come on

D
There is no delusion, to you I dont exist
     C    Am
I am only shadow
D
Only a ghost can wait as long as I have for this
   C Am G       Am          C    D
And I,    I cant wait much longer

      G                 C
Cause there might be a light
G               C      (G Am C) (G C Em)
Somewhere in your mind
        G                Am      C
When you think of you and I
  G             C    Em

```
I know there will be a light
            Em          Am              D                   C
It might not burn very strong, but I know its coming on
        G                             Am        C
It will come on, come on, come on
        G                     C        Em
It will come on, come on, come on
        Em              Am          D          C    (G Am C) (G C Em)
It will come on, come on, come on, come on soon
