

Valley Song
Jars Of Clay

Capo 3

A E
You have led me to the sadness
F#m i have carried this pain
A E
on a back bruised, nearly broken F#m i m crying out to You

A i will sing of Your mercy E F#m
that leads me through valleys of sorrow
D
to rivers of joy

when death, like a gypsy comes to steal what i love i will still look to the heavens i will still seek your face but i fear You aren t listening because there are no words just the stillness and the hunger for a faith that assures

to rivers of joy

A E
alleluia, alleluia
F#m D
alleluia, alleluia

while we wait for rescue with our eyes tightly shut face to the ground using our hands to cover the fatal cut though the pain is an ocean tossing us around, around, around You have calmed greater waters higher mountains have come down

i will sing of Your mercy

to rivers of joy
