Black Magic

I woke up in the morning and all the bells were ringing My eyes could see the Glory, baby - could hear the song they re singing

You only get to see the Light just one time in your life

Oh, Black Magic that blows your mind away takes you somewhere that you wanna stay you only get to stay one day
That cold Black Magic

Is there anything more wretched than to just have caught one sight?
The eyes that saw the Glory have been, have been blinded by the light

And it s the true believers that crash & burn but there ain t no way I m ever gonna learn

Black Magic that blows your mind away
takes you somewhere that you wanna stay
you only get to stay one day
That cold Black Magic

We can t escape; we re born to die

But I m gonna give it a real good try because nothing comes close & nothing can compare to Black Magic - Yeah, yeah, yeah
